Carbon Trading is a scam, a deadly, greed motivated distraction from real efforts to stop a climate meltdown.

Carbon Trading is nothing less than the largest privatization of of a public resource in modern history, strengthening existing global inequality by placing a shared global resource -- the carbon cycling capacity of the planet - in the hands of two groups noteworthy for their lack of concern for the public good: financial brokers and the energy industry.

The Clean Development Mechanism and offset projects generally are responsible for social injustice against some of the most vulnerable communities in the world. Large scale development projects assert foreign ownership of local resources, consolidate the power of undemocratic elites, and oust people from their land, undermining local, self sufficient economies and low carbon cultures.

Many offset projects are scientifically indefensible. The cycling of carbon, methane and other GHGs in the atmosphere, soil, forests, and oceans are not reducible to linear balance sheets and carbon equivalencies: trees simply aren't upsidedown smokestacks.

There is a reason Enron felt that Kyoto would "do more to promote Enron's business than almost any other regulatory initiative." Carbon Trading invites massive accounting fraud and creates a market where seller and buyer have a shared interest in low quality products (aka things that are doing nothing to stop climate change, but look good on paper).

Carbon Trading directs people, governments, and businesses money and attention away from the real, system wide changes that are needed to stop climate change, doing nothing to address household energy conservation, our deeply unsustainable transportation and food systems and people's lack of consciousness about more sustainable living, encouraging an "offset" culture no better than the selling of indulgences by the church in the 16th century.

We've got to do better for our children's future.
Get out of this shady business, and start doing something real for the climate.
